

Robert W. Dannhauser

Head, Global Capital Markets Policy
CFA Institute

Bob Dannhauser is Head, Global Capital Markets Policy for CFA Institute, based in their New York City office. CFA Institute is a global, not-for-profit professional association of more than 135,000 investment analysts, advisers, portfolio managers, and other investment professionals in 145 countries, of more than 129,000 hold the Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®) designation. The CFA Institute membership also includes 147 member societies in 73 countries and territories.

Bob is responsible for leading a team that addresses policy issues that are relevant to the integrity of the world's capital markets, and oversees regulatory outreach efforts in Washington DC and Brussels as well as development of research and analysis that leads thought on a variety of current issues including corporate governance, systemic risk, investor protection, market structure, and the regulation of the investment management profession. Before joining the CFA Institute staff in 2007, Bob held a variety of client portfolio management, sales and marketing positions in the institutional investment arena,.

In addition to holding the Chartered Financial Analyst designation, Bob earned the Financial Risk Manager certification from the Global Association of Risk Managers as well as the Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst designation from the CAIA Association. He holds a MBA in Finance from Cornell University, a MPH in Health Policy from Rutgers University, and a BA in Political Science from the George Washington University.